I. Membership Overview

Why should you join?

VASE Construction network of buyers are looking for what you sell and likewise. Don't miss the opportunity to grow your business and at the same time to help others.

Since 2005, VASE Construction team has helped to advertise over $12 billion worth of construction opportunities. Members confirmed over $19 million worth of construction contracts as a result of partnership and association with VASE Construction. VASE Construction team provides ongoing access to key contacts and construction opportunities in a timely manner.

The cost to acquire vetted subcontractors using VASE Construction is at least 50% less than conventional means (ads in newspapers, time and labor cost to check credentials). Subcontractors can find work for a fraction of the cost of hiring a salesperson and investing in other outreach programs.

From the same makers of DHL, UPS, FedEx, MGM Mirage, Ericsson, CBS, Fox Entertainment, Women Contractor's Association, United Technologies, NY School Construction, Verizon Wireless, and Perini Building Company eSourcing and more afford VASE Construction member's economic opportunities through technology to foster the development of long-term and mutually beneficial business relations.

I. Membership Overview

Why should you join?

VASE Construction network of buyers are looking for what you sell and likewise. Don't miss the opportunity to grow your business and at the same time to help others.

Since 2005, VASE Construction team has helped to advertise over $12 billion worth of construction opportunities. Members confirmed over $19 million worth of construction contracts as a result of partnership and association with VASE Construction. VASE Construction team provides ongoing access to key contacts and construction opportunities in a timely manner.

The cost to acquire vetted subcontractors using VASE Construction is at least 50% less than conventional means (ads in newspapers, time and labor cost to check credentials). Subcontractors can find work for a fraction of the cost of hiring a salesperson and investing in other outreach programs.

From the same makers of DHL, UPS, FedEx, MGM Mirage, Ericsson, CBS, Fox Entertainment, Women Contractor's Association, United Technologies, NY School Construction, Verizon Wireless, and Perini Building Company eSourcing and more afford VASE Construction member's economic opportunities through technology to foster the development of long-term and mutually beneficial business relations.

Belong and Be Known

Yes, join VASE Construction and known!

We can agree that in today's world, only those who are connected can grow. It takes a community of professionals and specialists to complete a job as complex as building a house, and you must be in that community to get the job done. But in the construction world, what is that community?

VaseConstruction.com is that community.

VaseConstruction.com is a web-based networking portal for subcontractors, major contractors and municipal agencies. It is a virtual world for the construction industry. It is a place where contractors find business opportunities, advertise upcoming projects and discover pre-screened subcontractors and certified minority contractors. VASE Construction is a place to increase visibility and opportunities you cannot afford to miss.

Become a member and enjoy a host of benefits designed specifically for new and growing businesses. You will gain access to the support and certifications you need to grow your business and join the ranks of over 600 qualified contractors and subcontractors working hard to build tomorrow. Join today to maximize your exposure and your gain.
